

BBeh Art Studio, LLC Privacy Policy

What Information do we collect?

Information collected by this site include : credit card number, email , phone number ,and address.

Why is information collected?

Information utilized for opted in updates or emails regarding new products or event, and or for fulfilling orders to ensure they are processed appropriately. Information obtained by BBeh Art Studio LLC is solely for business to be carried out like for shipping and fulfillment , and updates regarding new products or events. Information is confidential and only shared with print on demand partner printful to fulfill orders. Credit card information is used only to fulfill orders.

How we store, use, and disclose visitors personal information?

Information is stored only to fulfill job requests, and orders. We do use the production Partner Printful to fulfill orders for our goods in our store, except our one of a kind paintings. This information is stored in the Wix database which is the website builder we use for this store/website.

How do we communicate with site visitors ?

Communication occurs via email or text for hired events, marketing campaigns, promotions, or order fulfillment. We will communicate for orders otherwise there will be no communication unless you've opted in for marketing updates, promotions, and /or event notices.

How do we use cookies?

We utilize an app called usercentrix to detect all apps , users, and scripts. There is a banner on the webpage to opt out of cookies.

How can you withdraw or delete consent to use your collected information? If you no longer want us to process your data, please contact us at bbeharts@yahoo.com, and your information will be deleted from our internal database.

Privacy Policy Updates

Policy is subject to change . Please refer to this tab in the future if you need to know our Policy as they may be subject to change.